

Renting Out Your Commercial Property

Renting out your commercial property can help you earn additional income. Here are some tips to consider before renting out your property:

Research The Market

Thoroughly research the market to decide a competitive rent for your commercial property.

Define Lease Terms

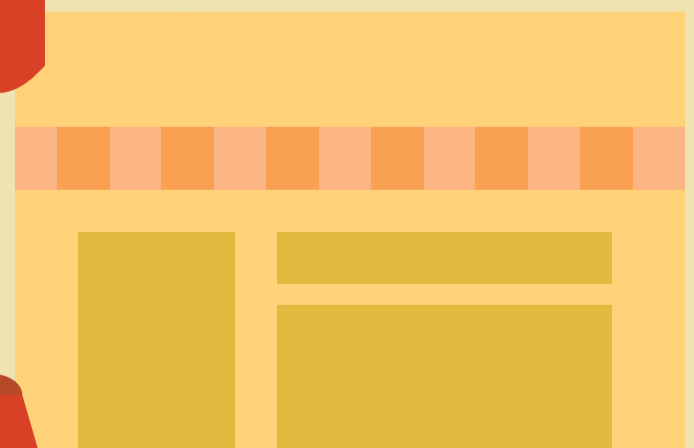

Hire a professional to write down the lease terms. This will legally bind you & your tenants.

Screen The Tenants

Ask thorough questions & conduct extensive background check before renting out the commercial property.

Stage The Space

Add visual appeal to the place & hire a professional photographer to click high quality images of the property.
